

Chris Kable – Class of 1971

Celebrity Personal Assistant

Chris has been a celebrity personal assistant on and off since 1978. She moved to California in 1975 and worked in the Beach Boys Recording studio until they sold it in 1978. She then started working for Dennis Wilson, the drummer of the Beach Boys, as his personal assistant. He was dating Christine McVie of Fleetwood Mac at that time so she started working for her and worked for her for 23 years until she moved back to England in 1998.

Chris moved back to Baltimore at that time and was the operations manager for the Maryland Film Festival for 3 years. She also worked on the film "Liberty Heights" with Barry Levinson and Paula Weinstein and for William Hurt on the film "Tuck Everlasting". She then moved to Chicago in 2001 and worked on the TSA Airport Security project for four years, which was established after 9/11. She now does some work for Spencer Davis of The Spencer Davis Group and is also a licensed Massage Therapist.

She has been able to travel extensively and has been to Europe numerous times; England, France, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. She has also been to Australia, The Virgin Islands, Samoa, Saipan and Mexico....not to mention almost every state in this country, including Alaska and Hawaii (several times). She was able to walk on the Matanuska glacier in Alaska. She said that Anchorage is a beautiful city and Hawaii is also beautiful...she's even been on 3 of the islands!
