Schuster Concrete was founded in 1974 by Daniel G. Schuster with a pick-up truck, a shed-full of tools, and the determination to succeed in business. Originally a small concrete contracting business — forming, placing, and finishing concrete — Dan and his crew all too often found themselves completing their prep work on time yet having to wait for concrete to be delivered by their suppliers. As the business payroll grew, so did the cost of even short delays and it became more clear that the only way to guarantee timely deliveries and have full control over project schedules was to start producing and delivering the concrete within his own company.

In 1985, Dan built a small concrete batch plant on New Plant Court in Owings Mills. Other small contractors, local builders and DIY homeowners, soon discovered the quality products and on-time deliveries of this new competitor in the market and the Schuster Concrete supply business venture grew quickly with 4 additional concrete batch plants constructed in the years since.

Today, Dan Schuster's "make it happen" attitude exists within the entire Schuster Concrete workforce. We are agile, adaptable, passionate, and willing to go the extra mile to achieve success in our work while providing value added, quality service to our customers.
